Documents

Your personal statement is extremely valuable to those who review your application for a scholarship. You are strongly encouraged to develop a thoughtful statement that provides the committee with insights. The following questions may be helpful when deciding what topic(s) to include in the personal statement:

- What qualities or characteristics best describe you outside of your academic record?
- What circumstances, events, individuals, or institutions have influenced you and how?
- What are your core values?
- What personal and professional goals do you have?
- If you have particular reasons for studying law and entering the legal profession, what are they?
- If you have particular views regarding the personal characteristics and attributes that someone in the legal profession should possess, what are they?
- If you have particular reasons for applying to school, what are they?
- If you have particular ties to the State of Kansas, which would influence your decision where to ultimately practice law, what are they?

Your personal statement should not exceed three, double-spaced pages and should include your name on each page.
